Network of Asia Pacific Schools and Institutes of Public Administration and Governance (NAPSIPAG)

ABOUT NAPSIPAG

NAPSIPAG is a leading organization dealing with issues concerning governance and public administration within the Asia-Pacific region that aims to promote good governance through capacity building and practical, relevant, and responsive training, education, and research endeavours.

NAPSIPAG is a network of schools and institutes of public administration within the Asia-Pacific region. The network was officially launched through an international conference held in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia on December 6-8, 2004 with over a hundred public administration institutions in attendance. The successful creation of NAPSIPAG can be attributed to the technical assistance provided by the Asian Development Bank (ADB) with an aim to establish an effective governance and public administration network in the region.

Currently, NAPSIPAG has 36 institutional members and significant number of individual members. NAPSIPAG organizes conferences, workshops, seminars and publishes books. The Journal of Administration & Governance (JOAG) is the official journal of NAPSIPAG.

MEMBERSHIP
